

Archdiocese of Regina Bulletin

October 13, 2019

28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

This month begins Reverence for Life Month within the Archdiocese of Regina.

This year we will be posting all our Reverence for Life materials on our Facebook page and on the Archdiocesan Reverence for Life page, which can be found under Ministries and Services, Social Justice. Please follow up on Facebook by searching "Archdiocese of Regina".

Any questions or concerns please contact Tashia Toupin at ttoupin@archregina.sk.ca

The Flourishing Congregations Institute was established at Ambrose University to explore and describe church attenders', leaders', and experts' perspectives on the variables that account for flourishing within Catholic, mainline, and conservative Protestant congregations in Canada. You can be a part of the continued research by participating in the survey at this link.

<https://tinyurl.com/fc236c>

The survey takes about 15-20 minutes to complete. You can stop and return to it if you can't complete it in one sitting.

For more information, or if you have questions, please contact Amanda Trainor at the Archdiocese of Regina 306-352-1651 ext. 230 or atrainor@archregina.sk.ca

2019 JESUIT LECTURE: Resisting Throwaway Culture: How a consistent life ethic can unite a fractured people

DATE: Wed, Oct. 16, 2019

TIME: 7:00 PM

WHERE: Champion Auditorium
3737 Wascana Parkway

WHO: Dr. Charles Camosy
Associate Professor, Theological and
Social Ethics Fordham University

ABOUT THE LECTURE:

Based on his book of the same name, Dr. Camosy reflects on this time of realignment when we have been given a unique moment to put aside the frothy, angsty political debates and think harder about our deepest values. This lecture will be an opportunity to dialogue about what kinds of values should serve as the foundation for a new political culture. More Info about Dr. Charles Camosy and the Jesuit Lecture Series can be found at the links below:

We are pleased to welcome Robert Barr as the Catechesis Coordinator for the Archdiocese of Regina. Rob will be working part time in this role. He joins us with a background in parish ministry, leadership, fundraising and development, and a zeal for the Catholic faith. Rob is looking forward to connecting with parishes throughout the Archdiocese in the coming months. Contact information for Rob's office will be available soon.

TF160: Resisting Throwaway Culture with Dr. Charlie Camosy - Part 2

In this part two of four, Eric and Brett continue their conversation with Dr. Charlie Camosy, professor of Ethics at Fordham University, NY regarding his recent book "Resisting Throwaway Culture: How a consistent life ethic can unite a fractured people". What do we mean by a consistent ethic of life? Are there any basic principles to base such an ethic upon? They'll answer these questions and more this week on Thinking Faith!

Archbishop's Appeal

The Greek philosopher Epicurus wrote, "Do not spoil what you have by desiring what you have not; remember that what you now have was once among the things you only hoped for." This quote follows upon the wisdom that is displayed in today's readings. In the Gospel from Luke, for example, Jesus cures 10 lepers. They have been given something — health — which they once only hoped for. Yet only one of them, a Samaritan as a matter of fact, returns to the Lord to thank Him. Jesus says "Where are the other nine?" A grateful heart focuses on one's gifts, on one's many blessings, not on what one may not have, or what one may have been denied. In gratitude, not only do we need to concentrate on those gifts, but we need to take the time to thank God and others who may have provided us those gifts. When was the last time you actually thanked your parents for the gift of life? When did you last thank your spouse for all that he or she may have done for you? When did you last thank God in prayer? Have we considered giving for a cause, like the Archbishop's annual appeal as a way of thanking God for his many blessings to us? Catholic encyclopedias says that there are five kinds of prayer — adoration, contrition, love, petition, and thanksgiving. Among these prayers, for a thankful heart, thanksgiving is foremost.
